OUR SERVICE

Acquired Brain Injury (ABI) Services

Home and Community Based Support

Individuals impacted by an ABI often have behavioural and psychosocial support needs that require a multi-disciplinary team approach during their recovery process. Our approach offers two different levels of Care Support and is designed to be complimentary to other services. Our care team possess the necessary skills to manage the complex needs of the individual:

- Provide and support a personalized routine that gives structure and predictability for daily living
- We support the individual in following a healthy lifestyle, meal preparation, assisting with light housekeeping and personal care as needed
- Encouraging, reminding and supporting as needed for activities of daily living
- Helping to ensure safety and supervision
- Ongoing support of behavioural strategies to assist the individual in maximizing their quality of life, including redirection of behaviour into positive behaviours'
- Ongoing support of cognitive strategies to enhance quality of life
- Provide supervision during social and community activities and outings
